Talking Art: Thursday, September 10, 7-9pm @ the ICA

Facilitating Ideas Through Ideas: The Role of Art, Artists and Curators in Our Lives and Times

In conjunction with our current exhibitions that address environmental concerns, we'll explore questions pertaining to the power of art to inspire, provoke and engage the viewer; the role of the artist's voice in the dialogue; and the role of an art institution in a conversation of global magnitude.

Be a part of the conversation with the ICA curatorial staff, NextNew:Green artists, Ice Floe artist Christel Dillbohner, and other community members.

Talking Art is free for ICA members, $5 for non-members.
